It is the policy of Hometown Animal Clinic that all in-patients, out-patients, boarders and grooming pets be current on all vaccines and be free of all parasites. To prevent the spread of infectious disease and parasites, I authorize the doctors at Hometown Veterinary Clinic to treat or vaccinate my pet to satisfy this policy and understand that I will be responsible for any associated costs.

I have received and read Hometown Veterinary Clinic's Hours Disclosure Statement and Vaccination Policies.

POTENTIAL VACCINE REACTION RELEASE

I, the undersigned, declare that I understand the following statements:

- 1. Vaccinations represent stimulation of the immune system, an inherently inflammatory process.
- 2. Normal/common vaccine reactions include joint and/or muscle soreness, mild lethargy, swelling at the sight of injection and/or mild fever. These reactions can last up to 48 hours after administration of the vaccine.
- 3. It is possible for a pet to develop a severe anaphylactic reaction to any vaccine, which can produce severe lethargy, vomiting, diarrhea, shock and/or death. These reactions are a rare but serious medical condition that requires immediate medical attention
- 4. It is possible for a pet to develop a severe vaccine reaction at any time during its life. For example, an animal that has not had a reaction for the first 6 years of its life could have a reaction at 7 years of age.
